I met Dyer the gunner several years ago and he always had a soft spoken tone in his voice. But when he did say something we listened because of the way he expressed his words. He will be missed and the service this Wednesday will be an honor for me to be part of. He sure was a nice guy and a great Marine, I am happy to call him a friend. My prayers are with him and his family in this sad time of losing a great person as he was.
