I loved him very much as he was my father and raised me from age 6 I truly miss him. He gave me my graduation party from High School. there are many memories of camping, his cooking, and vacations. To all the cars he loved to fix up around our home. life takes us in many directions and he actually remarried around the time I got married. He was a cool guy. He knew my children and my husband and I only wish I could have seen him more often in our later years. I know he wasn't well and my husband was fighting stage 4 cancer, Each time I past Diamond Bar I kept saying is there some way to stop and the one time we did there was no one home. We were living in Texas so a little far apart. But his true son my little brother loved him sooo much and never stops missing him. They truly look and act so much alike. we fee up mostly happy and he helped make that possible along with a very good mother. So love you and miss you Dad.
